

WEBSITE PRIVACY POLICY

PFP Group LLP recognise the importance of respecting your information and maintaining confidentiality. This Website collects and uses your personal information to deliver the services you have requested. Uses may include making the Website easier to use by eliminating the need for you to repeatedly enter the same information; performing research and analysis aimed at improving our services; and displaying content customised to your interests and preferences. We know you may be concerned about what we do with the information you provide us. You have our assurance that we are committed to safeguarding your data and maintaining your privacy online and we do not sell your information to third parties, unless we have your prior written consent.

We may collect information during your visit, including the pages you view, the links you click and other actions taken in connection with the Website. We also collect certain standard information that your Web browser sends to every website you visit, such as your IP address, browser type, access times and referring website addresses. In addition, if you wish to receive information from PFP Group LLP, you will be asked to provide personal information, such as your email address, name, address and telephone number. We may also collect demographic information, such as your zip code, preferences and interests. If applicable, we have ensured that third parties with whom we contract to assist us in providing services have agreed to maintain the confidentiality of your data. Such service providers will only have access to your data as is necessary and are prohibited from any unlawful use of your data.

PFP Group LLP welcomes online feedback and provides various services whereby such information can be made available to users of the Website, such as but not limited to comments. Any communication transmitted to PFP Group LLP, ("Submission") is understood by both parties to be non-confidential and non-proprietary. PFP Group LLP has no obligation with respect to any Submission and may freely copy, reproduce, incorporate, distribute, or use such Submission as it wishes. Submissions that are violent, obscene, threatening, defamatory, libellous, or violate the law in any way, are prohibited.

The Website uses cookies but does not store any personal or company information on the cookie, such as an e-mail address or name. The only piece of information on a cookie is a random identification number so when you come to the site we can recognise who you are from the information stored on the most secure part of our Website. You can accept or decline cookies. Most Web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline them. If you do so, you may not be able to use interactive features of the Website that depend on cookies.

PFP Group LLP is committed to protecting the security of your personal information. A variety of security technologies and procedures are used to protect your personal information from unauthorised access, use, or disclosure.

Personal information collected on the Website may be stored and processed in the United States or any other country in which PFP Group LLP or its affiliates, subsidiaries, contractors or agents (and any of their third party providers (including, without limitation, SEI Investments (Europe) Limited and its affiliates)) maintain facilities, and by using the Website, you consent to any such transfer of information outside of your country.
