Cookies

This website uses cookies, messages given to a Web browser by a Web server. The browser then stores the cookie in a text file. This website uses two types of cookies:

1. Session cookies which are temporary cookies that are automatically deleted whenever you close all open Web browser windows. Session cookies are used to ensure that you are recognized when you move from page to page within the site and that any information you have entered is remembered. Session Cookies do not collect information from the user's computer. They typically will store information in the form of a session identification that does not personally identify the user.
2. Persistent cookies that remain permanently on the cookie file of your computer. The persistent cookies contain an encrypted identification value associated with the User ID. Persistent cookies personalize your website experience and enhance security measures by recognizing your computer.

Cookies placed on your computer do not contain any personal information, such as an e-mail address or name.

Although your browser may permit you to reject cookies, cookies are required to login and navigate within this website. If you should choose to disallow cookies you will be required to respond to challenge questions each time you log on.
